PROVINCIAL LIBERALS TIED WITH PCs AND NDP IN VOTER INTENTION

MORE THAN A THIRD WILL NEVER VOTE PC, ONE FIFTH OR FEWER WILL NEVER VOTE LIBERAL, NDP OR GREEN

ANDREA HORWATH LEADS IN VOTER APPROVAL, FOLLOWED BY MIKE SCHREINER. FORD IS LAST

Key Findings

Just fewer than 3-in-10 Ontarians will vote either Liberal or PC if an election is held tomorrow: The provincial Liberals and the PCs are exactly tied in voter preference (28% each), followed very closely by the provincial NDP (26%).

One third of Ontarians will never vote PC (36%), which gives the party an maximum ceiling of two thirds (64%), while maximum ceilings for the Liberals (80%) and NDP (84%) are higher: About one quarter say there is no Ontario party they would never vote for (27%), while just more than a third say they would never vote PC (36%). This implies the PC's maximum ceiling of voter support is about two thirds (64%). Maximum ceilings of support for the Liberals (80%) and NDP (84%) are much higher.

Andrea Horwath has highest approvals, then Mike Schreiner. Ford and Fraser are last: Four-in-ten voters approve of Horwath's performance (40%), and her net approval (approve minus disapprove) is a positive +14. Mike Schreiner's net is a similarly positive +13. Doug Ford's net is now an unsustainable -49. Interim Liberal leader John Fraser, a placeholder, has the approval of just one fifth, but his net score is positive (+2).

Detailed Findings

Provincial Liberals and PCs exactly tied in voter preference, NDP close behind

TORONTO, JULY 13, 2019 - In a sampling of public opinion taken by Corbett Communications on July 9 and 10, 2019, among an online sample of 936 Ontario voters, exactly equal proportions will vote for either the PCs or the Liberals if a provincial election were held tomorrow (28%), and a very similar number will vote NDP (26%). About half this proportion will vote Green (15%).

The PCs find their greatest support among the oldest (40%), males (35%), in the western GTA outside Toronto (Halton, Peel - 37%), among those who approve of Doug Ford's performance as premier (87%), those who will be voting Conservative or PPC in the upcoming federal election (82% and 57%, respectively), and those who voted Conservative in the last federal election (77%).

In contrast, the provincial Liberals find some of their strongest support among the youngest (31%), in the Ottawa region (35%) and the city of Toronto (33%), among those who approve of interim leader John Fraser (55%), those who will be voting Liberal in the upcoming federal election (62%) and among those who voted Liberal federally last time (53%).

The provincial NDP are popular among the youngest (36%), women (31%), in Northern Ontario (33%) and Hamilton-Niagara (32%), among those who approve of the leader (45%) and among those who will vote NDP federally (87%).

The Greens' support is more common among the youngest (23%), females (17%), in Eastern Ontario (28%) and among federal Green Party supporters (76%).

More than one third will never vote PC, compared to about one fifth or fewer who say this of other parties

More than a third of Ontario voters will never vote PC (36%), which gives this party an effective maximum ceiling of support of 64%, or two thirds. One fifth will never vote Liberal, for a maximum ceiling of 80%. In contrast, the NDP (84%) and the Green Party (85%) have ceilings even higher than this.

Andrea Horwath has the best (but declining) approvals, Ford the worst

Four-in-ten voters approve of Horwath's performance (40%), and her net approval (approve minus disapprove) is a positive +14. One quarter of voters approve of Mike Schreiner of the Green Party (24%) and his net is a positive +13. Doug Ford has the approval of just one fifth (20%), and his net is an unsustainable -49. Interim Liberal leader John Fraser, a placeholder, has the approval of just one fifth (18%), but his net score is positive (+2). Both Horwath's absolute approval rating and her net have declined since last month (June 6 - 46% approval, +31 net).

Conclusion

"Doug Ford's Progressive Conservatives continue their slide in our latest poll; they are fundamentally tied now with the Liberals and the NDP. This process has been steady since we began tracking it. The PCs lost three points between May and June, and a further four points into July. That support has been flowing, relatively evenly, to the Liberals and the Green Party. Doug Ford's approvals appear to have stemmed their slide, but that may just be because they couldn't really get any lower. Unfortunately, Andrea Horwath, who regularly outpolls her party's support, has seen her approvals decline, and this may be because she is seen as increasing ineffective in opposition" said John Corbett, Principal and Founder of Corbett Communications.

Methodology

This poll was conducted by Corbett Communications on July 9 and 10, 2019, among an online sample of 936 Ontario voters 18 years of age and older who are members of Maru/Blue's Maru Voice Canada Online Panel. Panel members are recruited to reflect the population profile described in 2016 Statistics Canada data and are paid various incentives for their participation.

As this is an opt-in sample, no margin of error is presented. For comparison purposes, a probability sample of this size would have a margin of error of plus or minus 3%, nineteen out of twenty times asking.

Where appropriate, data have been weighted to ensure the sample matches the actual population profile according to the latest Statistics Canada data.

This poll is not intended to predict future outcomes but is a "slice of time" view of public opinion. Corbett Communications has released this poll in the public interest and has no stake in its results.

Corbett Communications, founded in 2000, and based in Toronto, is a full-service market research and polling company, with both quantitative and qualitative resources. For more information, see www.corbettcommunications.com
